The Struggles Practitioners Face—and How Buer Resolves Them

- Chronic pain and physical weakness - Many seekers feel trapped in cycles of pain or physical limitation. Buer is called the Spiral Healer because he rewires the body's currents. Example: one initiate invoked him and dreamed of a plant that grew in their ancestors' region; research revealed the herb had the exact properties they needed for healing.
- Psychic or energetic toxicity – Practitioners often feel “contaminated” after rituals or exposure to heavy environments. Buer's spiral purifies. Example: a sensitive working in hospitals petitioned him nightly and described feeling “clean” and less exhausted after long shifts.
- Emotional breakdown under stress – Many lose clarity in times of crisis. Buer's current restores the calm mind. Example: a practitioner once paralyzed during emergencies invoked him and reported staying composed during a sudden accident, guiding others to safety.
- Weak boundaries – Sensitives often absorb others' pain. Buer creates spiral shields. Example: a healer constantly drained after sessions described, after invoking him, finishing work feeling energized rather than depleted.
- Trauma lingering in the body – Emotional and spiritual wounds often leave physical imprints. Buer's spiral rebalances. Example: one initiate haunted by panic attacks felt their body relax into calm after his petition, breaking years of tension.
- Loss of mobility or function – Injury or stiffness can erode one's spirit. Buer restores motion. Example: a student recovering from surgery petitioned him and described accelerated healing, with dreams of spirals reweaving their muscles.
- Confusion in complexity – Medical, personal, or spiritual situations often feel overwhelming. Buer's spiral logic brings order. Example: a practitioner faced with multiple medical options invoked him and reported sudden intuitive clarity on which path to choose—and it proved correct.
